Dear Art:

I will never forget the good time we had when you lived up by us. And when we built our golf course and all. Hope to see you this summer your friend Florence Dow.

Dear Art:
I am sure you are surprised to receive this letter from a lowly person. I am just a young feller who has been working hard to make a living. I have been reading your column in the newspaper and I have been impressed by your knowledge and writing style. I have always admired your work and I am sure that your advice will be of great help to me. Please accept my sincere gratitude for your letter.

Sincerely,

To Logan High School Students of 1933-34:

You have justified in large measure our splendid motto, "A strong arm, a brave heart, and clear mind." The physical education, intra-mural, and athletic records for the year show good physical development, cooperation, and sportsmanship. Your courage in upholding the fine traditions of our school and the high ideals of life deserves much credit. The qualities of a clear mind have never been exceeded, as indicated in your achievements in scholarship, drama, music, forensics, journalism, and club activities.

The many students who have worked for these standards have not only enriched their own lives but have also helped Logan High School to a higher plane. I speak for the school in saying that such service is admired and appreciated.

PHOLD the standards of Logan High! These words express our sentiments, and if we have in any way helped to further these ideals, this year has been well spent.

Our aim has been to get more students into activities. This has partly been accomplished by intra-mural work, and we hope the work will go on until every student will be able to participate.

We wish the officers of 1934-35 luck, and hope they may maintain the record Logan High has made thus far.

Van Haslam.
Student Body Officers

UNDER the leadership of these competent and enthusiastic officers, the student body of 1933-34 has completed a very successful and interesting year. Dances, rallies, student programs, and other functions have been highly praised for their success. The student funds used for the school activities, which were this year placed in the hands of the officers, have been very capably handled.

The work of the Student Court in bringing all offenders to quick justice has been highly effective. Its work in maintaining high standards of conduct can probably never be fully estimated.

Students working with the Student Court besides the judge and marshal are: Dorothy Quinney, secretary, Vazale Bradley, Loyal Cook, Ida Marie Clark, James England, Kay Guyman, Walter Gardner, Dean Jeffs, James McMurrin, Alton Rouche, Marian Skidmore, Stanley Smith, Bennion Spencer, Frank Wahlen, and Willard West.

Student Council

The Student Council, although only two years old, has become one of the very important influences in solving student problems, and by its efficient work this year has added much to its prestige. With two students from each advisory class comprising this organization, a complete cross-section of opinion has been represented in the meetings, held every other Wednesday morning before school, and as a result, solutions to many school problems have been worked out.

One of the special duties for the fellows has been to raise the American flag each morning and lower it at sun-down. In addition, much enthusiasm for various activities has been engendered through the council.
Leagues

The Girls' and Boys' League have been working together more this year than ever before. They have held an assembly on the first of each month at which speakers talked on important every-day problems.

The Girl's League held a very successful Hallowe'en party the latter part of October and sponsored a girls' day on May 11. An assembly was given in the morning with a dance festival and dress revue in the evening, and the day ended with a delightful dancing party held in the gym.

The leagues conducted a project for the betterment of character. This consisted of weekly discussions on questions concerning rules of etiquette. It was very successfully carried out.
The Faculty

At the close of this school year we pause to express our appreciation on the work of the faculty. We realize that back of all sports, all club and class organizations, all activities; back of all student leadership, stands the faculty ready to advise and encourage.

One of the outstanding accomplishments this year was the art exhibit which was sponsored with the cooperation of several local artists. The exhibit was inspirational for the students and the public alike.

Probably the most successful Parents' Day in the history of the school was sponsored this year by the faculty. This day gave the parents a chance to become acquainted with the aims and organization of the school, as well as to see the work of the students. Undoubtedly it went far toward a better understanding between students, teachers, and parents.
HE "Senior Hits," is perhaps the biggest achievement of the Senior class this year. To stage an entire evening of original vaudeville is a challenge to any group of officers, and the success of "Hotel Commodore" is a tribute to the leaders of the class, and a demonstration of the talent of the members.

"Kempy," although it did not involve so many students, was another Senior triumph; a unique "all-date" class party was still another.

In addition the class has supplied more than its quota for all school activities, has maintained a high standard of scholarship and is one of the largest classes ever to graduate from the school. Its achievements, as well as its gift, will keep its memory green at Logan High School.

Junior Class Officers

COOPERATING enthusiastically with their officers, the Junior class of this year has made itself an important unit of the student body. In athletics, drama, social affairs, and student leadership, it has played an active role. Its members have shown their ability to work together, not only in their assemblies, but in their parties.

The Junior Prom, which they sponsored, was unique and colorful, as well as being a success financially. The sponsoring of this party well showed the possibilities of the Junior class leadership.

The graduate of '35 have already proved themselves a group capable of maintaining the high standards and ideals established by former classes.

The Sophomores this year have shown themselves to be a class from which much may be expected. Their officers have shown themselves capable and the members have responded enthusiastically to their leadership.

They have taken active parts, and in many cases leading roles, in athletics, drama, opera, band, debating, and almost every other activity. The programs for which they have been responsible have been interesting and original, and their two class parties were outstandingly successful.

The Sophomores of this year give promise of not only being able to live up to the standards set by other classes, but of being capable of doing new and constructive things for the school.

If the Silhouettes of the 1934 AMPHION recall in one way or another the joys and heartaches, the good times, and the hard times of going to high school, the staff will feel that the publishing of this volume is justified and its service to you and Logan High School, complete.
Debating and Oratory

In order that more students might participate in debating this year an entirely new method of conducting debates has been carried out by Logan High. That this idea has been successful is shown by the fact that more than twice as many students have taken part. The debates have all been non-decision to do away with disappointments of contestants, and difference of opinion of judges. Logan High made excellent showings in all of the twelve inter-school debates. The problems discussed were: Seniors, "The Federal Ownership of Banks;" Juniors, "Utah's adoption of a policy whereby state taxes should be derived from sources other than a tax on tangible property;" Sophomores, "Abolishment of the Death penalty in Utah."

The S. A. R. oratory contest proved that Logan High has, not only scholars, but scholars who can express themselves clearly and emphatically. Other contestants than the winner, Claude Wennergren, were Madison Thomas, Ida Marie Clark, Lola Willa Jensen, and Ralph Redford.

Dear Art,

You are the best all around musician I ever hopes to hear. Let's always be friends!

Mary Hanson.

Another,

Here to a grand singing and some greater horn playing.

Keep the good work up.

Success,

"The School For Scandal"

Under the direction of Miss Anna Boss, Logan High presented as the school play this year the famous "School for Scandal," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan. It was successfully given to three audiences, December 7 and 8.

The play portrays the inevitable outcome of gossiping, and gives a vivid picture of many characters familiar in our everyday life. It is filled with humorous incidents, and dramatic moments, and with the beautiful eighteenth century costumes, the dancing, and music, was entirely successful.

Because of the few parts for girls in the play, two casts of girls were chosen, each cast playing one night.

UNDER the direction of Mr. Baugh, the music department of Logan High presented "Rosamunde," on February 1 and 2.

The operetta, by Franz Schubert and Alexander Dean, takes place in the seventeenth century, and is colorful with the costumes, music, and dancing of that period. It contains some of the finest music ever sung by the music department. The cast gave outstanding performances both nights.

Mr. Baugh was assisted by Virginia Rae Cookey, student director; the orchestra, with Mr. Henson as director; Miss Anna Boss; Miss Oreta Hall; Mr. Ballif; Mr. Hodges; Miss Pearl Spencer; Mr. Barkdoll; Mrs. Effie Brown; Mr. Praetor; Mr. Linford; Mr. Wilmore.

The Cantadoras

This year has been a very successful one for the Cantadoras, girls' singing organization. Under the direction of Mr. Baugh, the chorus has given programs in most of the wards of Logan, and gave a musical at the Fourth Ward meeting house in May, in connection with the alumni Cantadoras.

The group also participated in the music festival at Brigham City, April 13 and 14 and placed in the superior class.

Officers of Cantadoras are: Ellen Rose, president; Grace Jennings, vice-president; and Esther Kennard, secretary.

The Grenadiers

Under the leadership of Mr. Baugh, the Grenadiers, boys' chorus, have made a splendid record this year. The group has given programs in several wards during the winter and took part in the spring recital, which was given in May by the music department of the school.

They also went to Brigham City for the music festival April 13 and 14 where they were classed as superior.

Officers are: Frank Wahlen, president; Walter Gardner, vice-president; Clarence Farey, secretary.

Band

LOGAN HIGH SCHOOL takes great pride in the band, and in its leader, Mr. Henson, through whose tireless efforts the band has come to be one of the outstanding organizations of the school and one of the best bands in the state.

The great event of the year to band members was the trip to Price for the State Band contest, April 20 to 22. The journey was preceded by long hours of early morning practice and much marching to and fro on the green. Then came the energetic efforts of Mr. Bates and of the Band Parents' Organization, which provided the necessary funds, and at six o'clock in the morning, the special train left Logan, picking up the South Cache and Box Elder bands farther on.

The contest was colorful and inspiring beyond imagination. The parade, the massed band concert, and hill to hill cornet calls especially, were never-to-be-forgotten experiences.

These contest activities, however, have been only a part of the work of the band. On Sunday nights during the winter, concerts have been given in a number of wards, reaching hundreds of patrons, and music lovers. On Peach Day it marched in the parade at Brigham City. It has played in special assemblies, public concerts, and all local parades, and serenaded townspeople on Christmas, besides being an indispensable part of all rallies, athletic contests and other such activities.

This year the officers and sponsors have been very active. One result of their efforts was a delightful banquet held at the Bluebird during the Christmas holidays. Appreciation should be expressed to Russell Borchert, who replaced Steve Ellis, the regular drum major during his illness.

And perhaps the most lasting accomplishment of the band is the part it is playing in increasing appreciation for really fine music, not only in its members, but in the many hundreds of other people who listen to its music each year. This service is also continued into the summer.

Orchestra

At the regional contest held at Brigham City, April 14, Logan High Orchestra won gratifying recognition when it was placed in the Superior Division, tying with Ogden, last year’s state contest winners. Although the orchestra does not make many individual appearances, it is a most important part of the school opera and plays. The skillful and artistic work done on the difficult accompaniment to “Rosamunde” would have been a credit to a vastly more experienced group.

"Kempy"

HIS amusing three-act comedy by J. C. and Elliott Nugent is a story of a highfalutin' daughter, who, in a fit of anger, marries the young plumber-architect who comes to fix the water pipes. She does so because he seems to understand her, and having read her book, had vowed to marry the author. An entirely adequate cast brought out every ounce of the play's delightful humor in its presentation May 21 by the Senior Class.

The supporting staff, which backed up the cast most dependably, consisted of Max Humpherys, general manager; Virginia Hodgson, business manager; LaMar Esplin and Alemano Pardini, stage managers; Dorothy Garff, student director; Vera Dunn, costume manager; Alice Arenston, designer; Otella Hale, property manager, assisted by Marjorie Anderson, Cleve Kimball, and Claude Wennergren; and Marian Skidmore, head usher. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Henson, furnished the musical background.
Assemblies

UNDER a rather new plan, responsibility for assemblies has been divided this year, although the Assembly Committee has had general supervision of them all.

On the first Tuesday of each month the Girls' and Boys' Leagues have been in charge, either holding separate meetings, or joining for such fine programs as those provided by Professor Chester J. Myers of the U. S. A. C.; Coach Ott Romney of the B. Y. U.; Superintendent Kirkbride of Cache County; and the U. S. A. C. Choruses.

The joint Faculty-Student Committee has provided such inspirational speakers as Principal George S. Bates, Superintendent E. Allen Bate-man, Professor A. N. Sorenson, and Walter M. Everton, and, centering about travel experiences, such speakers as Bassett MacQuire, Lavoir Card, Wallace A. Goates, and Miss Thelma Fogelberg.

Special entertainment features have also been provided such as the South Cache Band, the School Band, the Cantadoras. Fine music has been furnished by the two music departments. The committee has consisted of Miss Boss, Mrs. Shepard, Mr. Henson, and Harold Dibble.

Another entertainment feature of the year has been the two lyceum numbers: The Sutherland Puppets and the Fraser-James Dance act, presented under the direction of the Student Body Officers.
Football

ALTHOUGH the fellows on the team this year possessed some excellent potential ability, they were badly handicapped by inexperience until the middle of the season. After playing three games, however, they began to look like one of the real old gridiron teams from the north, and finished without another defeat.

To choose any individual outstanding players would be rather difficult, but the fellows who seemed to be holding places down very successfully were Spencer, Hall, Lewis, R. Smith, Hodges, Porter, Eames, Otterbeck, and Thompson.

In the first game the team tied with North Cache, but suffered the greatest defeat in years when Box Elder beat them, 14 to 6. This is the first time the Grizzlies have been defeated in Cache Valley in seven years. They also lost another hard fought battle with Ogden.

The Ogden game proved to be the turning point of the season, for following it both South Cache and Preston were handed out the low end of the score on the home field. By winning over Preston the Grizzlies gave the undisputed regional championship to Box Elder. A pre-season game with Provo and a post-season game with Granite also added to the victories won by the Grizzlies.

The players who will not return next year are: Lewis, Hall, Humpherys, Spencer, R. Smith, Izatt, Brown, Kimball, Hodges, Porter, Farey, Nebeker, Esplin, Ellis, Reading, Watterson, Fulmer, Scott, Wahlen, Bradbury, and H. Smith.

Basketball

The Logan High hoopsters goes the honor of being the first team to win the championship of the enlarged Region One, consisting of Ogden, Weber, Box Elder, and Bear River, besides the teams from the original region: Logan, Preston, North Cache, and South Cache. The Grizzlies finished the season with nine victories and one defeat, averaging 33.6 points a game to 27.1 for opponents.

The Grizzlies started the season slowly by taking a ragged game from Preston, 20-17, but rapidly improved to defeat South Cache and North Cache by fairly large scores. Ogden gave Logan its only defeat of the season by downing them, 25-21. The Tuesday following, the Grizzlies defeated Box Elder in a thriller, 29-28, and on Friday played their best game up to that time by vanquishing the Weber Warriors, 35-27.

Bear River, Preston, and North Cache were defeated in succession. In the final game of the region, the Grizzlies were pushed to the utmost to win from the Spartans from South Cache, which they finally did only in the last few minutes of play.

After completing this successful campaign, the Maroon and White team entered the state basketball tournament, which was held in Salt Lake City on March 14, 15, and 16. The Grizzlies won their first game from Gunnison, 36-33, but were eliminated from the tournament when they were defeated by Nephi, 42-26, and by Salina, 32-17. The team was badly off form throughout the tournament, barely winning the first game, and then dropping the next two games by large scores.

The players who will not return next year are Haslam, Hendricks, Coburn, McNiel, Farey, and Hyer. Coach Crookston's ability to build strong teams will be helped very much by the returning lettermen: Ex-Captain Otterbeck, Captain-elect Eames, Thompson, Adams, Yeates, and Peterson. In addition to these men will be some good material from the second team, which made a fine record this year, winning almost every game played. The second team includes Denning, Redford, Harrison, Bailey, Lindquist, James, Cardon, Watts, Larsen, Stevens, Mitton, Bradbury, and Jenkins.

Track

By beginning another year in the traditional manner, the Grizzly track and field team won their eighth successive divisional championship. Logan garnered 54 1/2 points; North Cache, 42; Preston, 39; and South Cache, 34 1/2. A new record was established in the 880-yard relay at the divisional meet by Hendricks, Campbell, Hugie, and Hill. If it is repeated in the regional meet, it will become official. Other outstanding events were the 100-yard dash, shot put, 220-yard low hurdles, 220-yard dash, pole vault, javelin, and 120-yard high hurdles.

The team was led by Captain Willard Hill, who has received the recognition of being among Logan High’s best sprinters. A number of fellows are looming up who will carry on successfully next year: Partington, Hugie, Hovey, Redford, Thompson, Dopp, James, Fonnesbeck, Morgan, and Cardon.

Those who will not return to participate next year are Captain Hill, G. Olsen, Hendricks, Hall, Porter, Farey, H. Smith, Wahlen, Hawkes, Nebeker, R. Smith, Lewis, Watterson, Campbell, Humpherys, and Wilmore.
Tennis

By starting out their tennis campaign with fast and stellar playing, the Logan Grizzlies are leading the Cache Valley division with three victories and no defeats. They have defeated Preston, North Cache, and South Cache, and prospects look bright for a regional championship. As the Amphion goes to press, only these results are known, and it is difficult to say whether or not we shall have another championship team. The team is powerful, though, being made up of players possessing both speed and accuracy with their shots. The regional meet, which will be held in Ogden on May 5, will determine the team which will be sent to the state high school tournament from Region one. The Ogden meet will give the players an excellent chance to meet faster competition, and thus give them a chance to strengthen their weak points.

Coach Adams and Captain Dibble conducted a spring tennis tournament, and the squad was picked from its best players.

Those who will not return next year are Captain Dibble, Lund, Olsen, and Hall.
URING the past year, more than ever before, athletics has been emphasized for all girls rather than for the development of only a few. Several tennis tournaments have been conducted, in which a large number of girls participated. Those who were successful in making the teams are Momoya Koike, Margaret Peterson, Marjorie Geddes, and Marjorie Crockett.

Although several basketball teams played exceptionally well, the Junior team, composed of Wanda Peterson, Marie Ryan, Mern Anderson, Velma Watterson, Marjorie Smith, and Clara Stucki, proved to be the best.

In swimming the outstanding girls were Betty Morrell, Marian Price, Nettie Marie Peterson, Lois Jones, Gladys Kleopher, and Mary Lenkersdorfer.

Archery has been a sport of great interest, especially to the Sophomore girls. With Virginia Coakley and Vira Astle in charge of practice, the following have won honors: Ethel Hodges, Clara Ellis, Joyce Dahle, and Mary Gale Blair.

Under the direction of the Girls' Athletic Club, with Doris Partington, Zetta Benson, Dorothy Quinney, Catherine Romney, Alice Quinney, Helen Schow, Mildred Middleton, Momoya Koike, Vira Astle, and Marian Anderson as managers, those who do not take physical education have participated in the following sports: volleyball, soccer, cycling, track, hiking, skating, dancing, basketball, baseball, swimming, and tennis.

Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture. Its purposes are to develop rural leadership, cooperation, and a larger social standing for the farmers of the future. Of this organization the old Juniper Chapter is a part. Since this chapter was organized, it has been building up until at the present time there are fifty members who are carrying programs of supervised practice. It has been very outstanding among the chapters of the state, winning awards in public speaking, stock judging, horse shoe pitching, basketball, and showmanship.

The organization has made active progress because of the energetic direction of their adviser, Harold M. Peterson, and the capable leadership of their officers, who are: Claude Wennergren, president; Ralph Morgan, vice president; Delmar Miller, secretary; Garr Thompson, treasurer; Evan Izatt, chief executive; Grant Humpherys, reporter; and Roldo Dutson, athletic manager.

AUTUMN
Once more we’re back together,
   Girl O’ mine!
With the long sweet summer over,
   Girl O’ mine.
This first dance of the year
Thrills me with both hope and fear
Think we’ll graduate together,
   Girl O’ mine?

WINTER
The Christmas Dance already,
   Girl O’ mine!
Just the time that I like best,
   Girl O’ mine.
And these colors! and that Star!
And that music! Here we are—
And it’s twelve o’clock already,
   Girl O’ mine.

SPRING
All so soon the Junior Prom,
   Girl O’ mine!
Like this modernistic hall,
   Girl O’ mine?
I could wear a tux with pleasure
Just to match that gown, my treasure
As we promenade together
   Girl O’ mine.

L’ ENVOI
The Commencement Dance is through
And our High School Days are, too.
What’s ahead for me and you,
   Girl O’ mine?
Junior Promenade

The most delightful formal party of the year, the Junior Promenade, was held April 6, at the Palais D'Or. No added decorations were needed for the newly decorated hall, although vari-colored lights were used to give heightened beauty.

A colorful promenade was led by three charming girls: Kathryn Bowen, Prom Queen, a junior; and her attendants, Dorothy Quinney, senior, and Virginia Arnold, sophomore. These girls were each presented with a bouquet of pink roses.

This most successful affair was planned by the junior class officers and the Prom committee: Lola Jensen, Howard Anderson, MarJean Tyson, Vazale Bradley, and Ralph Redford.

The Diary Of A Senior

SEPTEMBER

11—Today I once again begin my quest for higher and deeper learning.

12—Up and to school where I welcomed one welcoming day! In our assembly Mr. Bates welcomed the students, students welcomed the Sophs, and Seniors welcomed the soft seats.

13—Woe is woe and what luck! They took my quarter and got rid of another bottom locker.

14—Being uncorralled at noon, I hied me down to the fair to see how my pickles came out.

15—Not knowing which peaches to take to the celebration, the band went to Brigham and left me home. If it hadn’t been for a good assembly and dance, I would have died.

20—Everyone is selling his old books—and was my sun-tan red when I found the heart revealing notes in my last year’s Algebra book circulating at ten cents a glance?

26—“Yust ceep viggling,” by Toe Anderson.

29—Logan came out of the struggle today with a 7-0 victory over Provo. I’m glad I don’t have glee tomorrow and that I can talk with my hands.

OCTOBER

2—I cut class and dashed over to Nibley, only to find that league officers had got their dates mixed and no assembly.

5—Mr. Baugh told us to root for Logan but to let the other fellow do the yelling. He should have told me that last week!

6—D. Lewis was titled “shining light” in Logan-N. C. game even if we only tied the game. I located a pair of clappers today and saved the wear and tear on my throttle.

11—Tryout today for this year’s school play, when my lumbering figure did go on display, but a suitable part I failed to portray.

12—Vera Dunn kinda went in for wall climbing and Ernie Tippets turned female radio announcer in Masker’s meeting today.

13—And it’s Friday! True to form it is the lucky day, for Box Elder Bees stung us good, and we had our alumni back to do a little showing off, too!

20—I tried to sneak into the Soph. Hard Times party, but the doorkeeper detected the presence of a superior.

24—Basking in the sun of the South Seas sure appealed to me. Mr. Coombs had the right idea, even though he lacked the atmosphere.

25—Lockers banged louder than ever today for it’s the last time until after U. E. A. And whistling merrily I set me off to one blissful week-end.

26—Being flustered and upset, I pushed off to the J. F. F. without my eyebrows—and just at a time when a girl craves alluring eyes.

NOVEMBER

2—Ollie Jean was the life of the pep rally, which seemed to show that her report card didn’t affect her as mine did me.

3—I’ll bet anything the S. C. Spartans were making mud pies today, after the way they let Logan make 13 points on them.
The Diary Of A Senior

7—I think I can, I think I can, I think I can—and I did laugh at Prof. Myer's train story.

16—The team played Granite in Salt Lake and Dean Lewis played up for some food in the middle of the night—so I'm told.

21—Chemistry students began sling ing acid around in the lab. after school, and I went home with one and a half stockings. Oh, allowance, where art thou?

23— Had a scrumptious time at the Senior Class party, even if I did have to ask my man.

24—The Juniors followed up with a party so that they would use our decorations. (Laff-laff.)

29—The whole school turned out for the Turkey Dance with hopes of taking home the turkey. There was only one turk and one Lincoln McClellan, so I tried for a pie.

DECEMBER

4—Back on the job again, all but Mr. Hodges, who couldn't take it, it seems. Say, how many turkeys did he eat anyway?

6—The play cast worked until the wee hours of the morn. Maybe I'm glad I'm not a second Barrymore.

7—The play cast surely knows its scandal. I wonder if they got their technique from the club room.

13—I stayed home with little Ebby while mother went to school.

14—The college glee club came down to show us how it's done.

19—I followed the crowd to Degn's, where another fatal shot went down in history.

23—The pause that refreshed us: caroling between classes, peanuts between paper twists, and shoe removers between dances. What an Xmas send off!

JANUARY

2—The first day of school this year, and even this ceased to be funny after I had heard about it fifty-eleven times.

4—What's this old world comin' to—me—the best of drivers—and forced to get a driver's license.

8—Gee—the college sure sends down some cute trainers. My Sociology I. heartbeat didn't take to me so well. Who said opportunity knocks but once?

10—I had to laugh the way the girls start simmering back to school in their new Xmas things and try to make one believe they've had them a long time.

11—Oh, dear me! Even the Grizzly has a Cub, at least that's the way it strikes me. And then there was the assembly in the gym for the S. C. game.

12—Speaking of sardines in a can—why that's tame to the way I looked on the main steps this morning trying to get a peek at the new school picture. Even art appreciators have their obstacles.

15—Just another of the inconsistencies (I think there's such a word) of life. Here I have a brand new ski suit and no snow—but I hear I have company in my tribulations.

18—I couldn't help snickering at some people's dumbness. A man was painting "Victory," the headless dame in the library, and Dixie Johnson asked if they had at last dug up her head from among the school relics, and someone
I wish you lots of luck.

Howard Wilson.
The Diary Of A Senior

said it was supposed to be headless. Imagine such dumbness about how human beings should look.

19—I can’t get over the fun train ride I had to Richmond. It certainly seemed swell to get a new mode of transportation. But coming back was when we whooped it up, being as how we won the game from N. C.!

22—Those discouraging tales that float over from Nibley Hall about how the chorus can’t sing above the orchestra makes me think that even the talented have troubles.

23—I heard (and from a very good source) that Nibley Hall is changing her make-up. What is the modern world coming to?

26—The old saying, "Your brain’s as dry as a soda cracker" just filled my mid-year test attitude to a T. Could the basketball team have felt the same way in Ogden to let them beat us?

30—The game with Box Elder was too close to be comfortable, and I worked up a genuine headache. Yet I couldn’t help but wonder, after that May Pole dance, how the L. P.’s could pick goats with such fascinating legs.

31—Trunkful upon trunkful of dyed union suits arrived for the opera. The poor kids who had nerve enough to wear them certainly earned the school vacation they got for practice.

FEBRUARY

1—I turned out to be a soloist in class today, since I seemed to be the only untalented Senior. The opera cast seemed to be able to do well without me.

2—Weber basketball game and the Opera—both were successful from Logan’s standpoint—which justifies my fatigue from running to and fro.

6—Nobody ever thought it of me, but to be a radio star is my secret desire. Lavori Card’s speech in assembly today was like feeding a fire kerosene, the way my hopes boomed up.

7—Life’s just one string of misery to me when I have to try to convince some poor fellow to become my sweetheart for one evening so I can go to the Sweetheart’s party.

8—Those poor Sophs and Juniors had to go and get their maps imprinted for the annual rogues gallery! (Seniors alone, in the last two years, probably didn’t look desperate enough.)

9—It seems to me I heard something about Logan winning from Bear River today.

12—Back to school after a perfectly deevine party at the hotel. All the girls’ hair looked so nice in school (remains of the party) I hardly knew them. We had a very fine assembly in honor of Lincoln.

13—The college sent down some students to sing from "Il Trovatore." I’ll bet they could sing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" grand.

14—Oh, boy—did I have fun sending valentines today. They were sure mean ones—and if anyone hears it was me who done it I’m afraid my earthly hours will be numbered.

16—Goodness, but Mr. Ott Romney is a nice man.

22—Claude Wennergren finally talked the judges into giving him a medal in the S. A. R. contest. He’s some orator, he is. So are all the rest who entered the contest.
The Diary Of A Senior

23—At the game with North Cache (at which we won) I guess I didn’t enjoy drinking to them from an empty mug.

27—I’m still looking for my head after the way it was chopped off in a cap and gown fight. I heard that the Sophs and Juniors got together on their assembly. Probably a scheme to rate the Senior soft seats.

MARCH

2—The game with South Cache put ye Alma Mater as regional champion.

9—Miller Ryan returned with the peppiest assembly I’ve seen for a long time.

12—It’s an ill quake that cracks no good. The cracks in the building seemed to create more anxiety than our daily preparation, so we were excused to go home at noon.

14—As birds follow summer, so students follow teams. I slung a knapsack on my shoulder, but couldn’t find a freight train Salt Lake bound.

16—Hi, Salt Lake—better late than never. What with four in a bed and one in a tub, eating at Kresses, hotel souvenirs, and incidently a basketball game, I felt my fifty cents was well spent.

22—I made my stage debutee in Senior Hits. They say I was superior—which probably accounts for the fact that the Hits was the best one in years.

28—House cleaning time is here again—in other words we have a spring vacation—not that I don’t appreciate it.

APRIL

3—South Cache band entertained us with a toe-tooting good program. Afterwards I helped tuck away a bit of their lunch.

6—The boy friend came around with a date for the Prom and I had a simply gorgeous time! My last high school prom!

10—Our swanky band gave us a full hour assembly. If they play half that well for the state—.

13—It’s another Friday 13 and the end of the term. ’Nough said, Diary!

17—in the Senior class assembly we talked of the Senior class play. Here’s where my shining career gets another coat of polish.

18—As much as I tried, I couldn’t find out who was up for officers next year at the delegate meeting held after school.

20—The band went to Price to contest and the remaining seniors spent the day at the college where a big show was put on for High School Day. Needless to say, I devoured the free lunch, liked the snappy assembly, and acquired a flaming sunburn—which all helped me have a snunny time which I won’t forget for at least until my skin peels.

27—Election day.

MAY

11—Girls’ Day.

17—Award Day.

18—Student Body Day.

21—Senior hike and Senior play.

23—Exams.

24—Amphion out!

25—Graduation Exercises.

A Grizzly was summoned to student court
His reply was similar to cannon-ball snort
The judge—he no likee,
So marshal—he strikee,
Because, on account of, he wasn’t good sport.

In our school there’s a fellow called “Beast,”
For his breakfast I hear he eats yeast.
And now “Ginia Lee”
When he says “Look at me”
Seems to find that his charms have increased.

Un garcon qui s’appleait Juno
Essayait de monter un Bruno;
Le Bruno le jette
Tout droit sur sa tete
Et mangeait ce pauvre cher Juno.

Our football co-captain so tall
Went out to the Aggie’s masked ball;
He went just for fun,
Dressed up as a bun,
And a dog ate him up in the hall.
—P. S.

There was a young lass named Alice the Goon
Who’d sit on the deck and gaze at the moon
’Till the Sea Hag would come
And spoil all the fun
With barrels of spinach to be eaten by noon.
—N. H.

There once was a teacher named Inez,
Of all lovely ladies the fines’;
The syntax of noun
She knew up and down
And oh, to what tests she’d consign us.
—N. R.

I once knew a goofus named Mary
Who went with a dumb cluck named Harry
But Larry stepped in
With a gallon of gin
Now Mary’s for Larry, not Harry.
—D. G.

There was a bright student named Carter
Who felt that the rolled hose were smarter;
She walked down the street
And wrapped o’er her feet
Were her stockings, how shocking! No garter!

He struck at a girl; couldn’t reach-er;
He turned all so red
On the top of his head
We sent to Miss Rowland for bleacher.

Whom Westie asked to take homa;

Who made Pete McNeil rather giddy;
When at him she smiled
And drove his heart wild,
He should act sedately—but did he?

Miss McCarrey has lost all her keys,
Now she’s begging for them on her knees;
For she can’t drive her car
Nor sell us a bar,
She’ll learn to give us all C’s.

Junior H.: “But how can I economize?”
Madison: “By writing on both sides.”

Steve Ellis: "Say, Doctor, I asked that nurse to put a hot water bottle at my feet and she stuck up her nose and walked away."

Doctor: "What else could you expect? That was the head nurse."

Steve: "Oh, do they specialize that much? Then get me the foot nurse."
School Song

'Neath the crest of Wasatch Mountains,
With their varied hue,
Proudly stands the school we honor,
Glorious to view.

Radiant light of each new morning,
With its grace sublime,
Smiles upon the walls majestic,
Down the years of time.

As the days of youth pass by us,
As life's shadows fall,
Oft we think of happy moments,
Passed within thy wall.

Chorus

Swell the chorus ever louder,
Echoes never die,
Hail to thee, our school beloved!
Hail to Logan High!
