Technical Services

Development of the library's print and non-print collections during 2001 was consistent with previous years. The library monitors the growth and condition of the collections to ensure the availability of materials that are timely, informative, and relevant for the diversity of visitors that come to the library. A detailed assessment of the total collection is an on-going process that ensures the consistent management of each of the various collections maintained by the library. The staff time, and the resources, that are expended in the processing and maintenance of the collections contribute significantly to the extensive use and preservation of the materials.

Special Projects

Taos/UnicornOasis
On October 12, 2000 the library migrated from the automated DRA Inlex library management system to the DRA Taos library management system. Much of the year 2001 was spent dealing with migration issues and in using and learning to use the new Taos software.

In July of 2001 we received notification that DRA Incorporated would be purchased by Sirsi Corporation. This purchase was completed by September. In October Sirsi Corporation notified us that they would no longer develop or maintain the Taos software product after February 2002. As a result of these changes the library will be migrating from the DRA Taos product to the Sirsi UnicornOasis product during 2002. It appears that the migration costs to make this change will be minimal but the amount of staff time required to make the migration will be significant.

Flags
The library received a donation from the International Student Center at Utah State University consisting of 77 flags from various countries throughout the world. The library has catalogued and re-packaged the flags preparing them for circulation for the general public. The flags are either 3x5 feet or 4x5 feet in size. Response from the public to this new collection has been very positive and the flags have been in constant use since their acquisition.

Grants:
The library applied for and was awarded an LSTA grant to create an online education center for the public. Because of limited floor space it was necessary to create a mobile training situation. The library acquired laptops and projectors using grant funds and developed training classes for the public. The classes provide instruction on the basics of using computers, on searching library databases, and on searching the Internet generally. Library staff taught the classes. Class sizes were limited to the number of laptops available.

The library was awarded an LSTA grant to acquire materials in Spanish. The library applied for this grant jointly with the Logan High School media center. These funds are being used to purchase basic reference collections in Spanish for both the library and the high school media center. These funds will also be used to purchase materials in Spanish for general circulation.

This subject collection represents 0.9% of the total collection in the library. About 17% of the collection are duplicate copies.

Circulating Collection

There are 490 titles in this subject area.

The average circulation is 24 (total since acquisition). The average age of the collection is 1987 and mode is 1988. This represents both adult and children's titles.

The average cost of a title in the circulating collection is $16.11. The collection has an approximate value of $7894.00. This represents both adult and children's titles.

In general, the collection is in fair physical condition. Most titles are either very worn or in new condition.

Of the 153 titles recommended by Public Library Catalog, the library owns 56 or 36.6%. Of the 35 titles listed in the 1999 supplement to the 11th edition of Public Library Catalog, the library owned 15, or 42.9%. Of the 20 titles listed in the 2000 supplement to the 11th edition of Public Library Catalog, the library owned 6, or 30%.

Reference Collection

There are 25 reference titles, 3 Utah Reference, and 1 Atlas titles in this collection. There were not enough titles to allow an accurate sampling of the age of this collection. The value of the reference collection (based on the value established in the circulation collection, reference titles typically cost more) is approximately $467.00.

Most titles are in very good condition.

Audio-Visual Collection

There are 32 videos in this collection. The average age of the collection is 1989 and mode is 1987. An estimated value of the collection (based on average video = $20.00) is $640.00. Videos are in good condition. Most videos are parts of series and wear seems to be uniform over the series. There were not enough titles in this collection to provide an accurate sampling for average circulation numbers.

Children's Collection

There are 438 titles in this collection. The average age of the collection is 1989 and mode is 1991. The collection is well used and many titles are worn. Many covers offer unappealing art with only the recent publications offering appealing art on covers.

Generally, titles on science projects were evaluated as middle school appropriate. Only very elementary titles were included in the children's collection. All others were included in adult collection.

There are 14 videos in this collection. There were not enough titles in this collection to provide an accurate sampling for average circulation or cost.

Other Collections

There are 1 New Books, 1 Archives, 6 Oversize, and 17 Non-English titles. The value of the collection (based on the value established in the circulation collection) is approximately $403.00.

Description of Serials Collection
There were 0 print newspapers (local/national news), 8 adult and 1 children's magazine for this collection (though there are additional titles primarily in life sciences, geography and history subjects as well). There are several general interest magazines which will have articles related to this subject.

As part of online databases available through the state library, there are a number several, which deal with this subject, specifically, the SIRS databases (geared towards children).

Description of cooperative relationships, other sites, and ILL support

The Merrill Library at Utah State University has an adequate collection of materials on this subject, all available to library patrons at no cost. They have a number of electronic resources to supplement the print collection.

ILL access is available for specific titles. ILL can access journal articles when full text articles are not available through Pioneer databases or Ebsco. As of 07/16/01, we had requested 20 titles on ILL in this subject (2 in 1999, 8 in 2000, 10 in 2001) and lent 12 (7 in 2000 and 5 in 2001).

The library has 76 links to 7 subject-related sites on the Internet Directory. These sites are not completely organized to compliment the collection. Other sites are accessible through the several search engines provided by the library. The collection will require attention so that links are provided to all aspects of the subject.

Cataloging and Classification Considerations

There are few items still cataloged in call number locations that are in need of reclassification. There are various titles throughout the collection in need of reclassification, but the bulk is in 500.9.
