
Books For Sale

LIBRARIAN George Boeck and Judy MacMahon, assistant librarian, check over books to be sold by the Cache County Library beginning Monday at 11 a.m. in the library. The sale will continue until all books are gone. "The books discarded have outlived their usefulness to the library. Some have outdated facts, others are duplicate copies, more are torn and frayed. Many books have attractive bindings but quite specialized contents," said Boeck. "Your home may be a much better place for them than your library shelves where they take up space much needed for new and more useful books." (Herald Journal Photo)

H.J. 10-7-73